

NEIL'S FARM-STRIPS

UK & IRELAND

For lovers of grass strip flying here we have a comprehensive package from all around the UK. Designed for real and armchair pilots and is for challenging and improving your flying/navigational skills. If you're a real pilot, thanks to the excellent Bing scenery you can fly there before returning in real life. This scenery has been written and updated over the years but it works well with both 20 & 24 (with a few limitations).

I have decided to release the scenery virtually free. All it costs you is £10 for my expenses. What you get is 68Gb of scenery. Plus included are some guide books.

The airfields have been designed using mainly custom objects and are built purely for fun. I have also taken the liberty of placing end numbers on some of the fields that are particularly difficult to find. Some of the airport codes are fictional. One last tip, leave your airport markers 'OFF'. There is no skill whatsoever in finding your airfield if you have a large marker pointing at it! I will be updating some of the airfields to 24 as and when and uploading them to you.

PREFACE

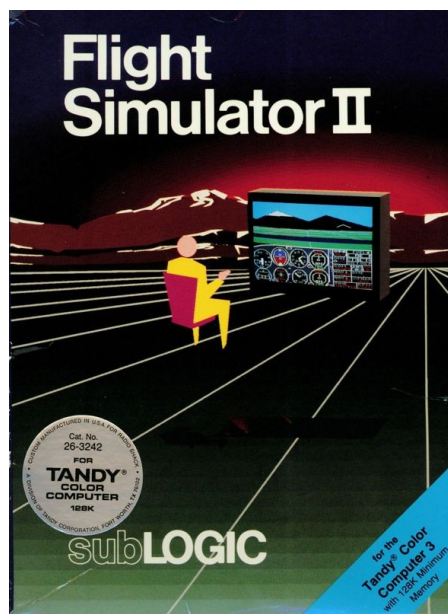

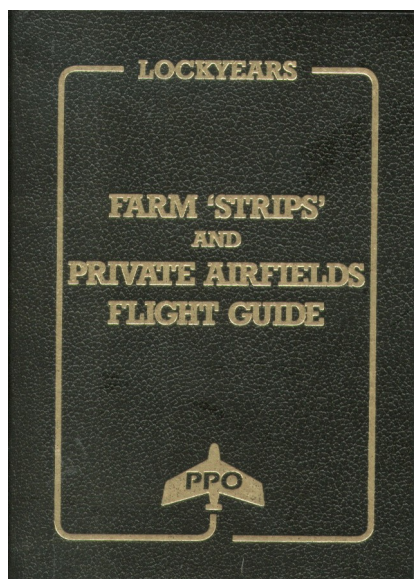

I feel like have been around flightsim since it all began. In fact I think I have. Many people think it all started with Bruce Artwick but it didn't. I remember a programme called 'Flight' by a company called Psion for the Spectrum 48k, It came on cassette which ran at about 2 fps on a green screen but it was brill because it was all we had. I have continued the journey ever since, moving onto the Sublogic scenery on the Commodore computer with it's addon scenery disks. Next was the Amiga which gave us 'real' sound instead of the constant buzzing.

Next on the road were the personal computers, which I have continued through all the many upgrades over the years up to today. Flightsim has like technology has evolved over the years and now we have the latest innovations MSFS2020 and now MSFS2024.

I have to mention what started my love of Farm Strip Flying and this was Bryan Lockyear's book 'Farm Strips and Private Airfields Flight Guide'. Reading through this book really excited me and I just wanted to create these fields so people could enjoy them. As I began I got in touch with Bryan and we became good friends until his death a few years ago. So I hope you enjoy them and remember the love and hard work Bryan put into his book. Who knows what the future will bring!

The majority of my airfields are artistic licence and made to enhance your enjoyment. To create the fields as accurately as possible. A couple more things if you have any of the Orbyx Regional Scenery, you may get the occasional conflict with mine and their objects but it's no big deal. Also if you any terrain altering scenery addons it may affect the placement of walls and fences. Plus 24 has a better terrain model so some may be misplaced anyway but I will be updating the fields slowly and sending them to you

Another thing, I take my hat off to the pilots that flew to these fields before the advent of GPS. Although I must admit, I still like using the stopwatch, it's much more satisfying. One important point is, if you have any of my earlier files installed I would suggest removing them. I have included many of my guide books in which you can re-create the flights.

INSTALLATION

There are 2 ways to do this. The best way is to rename your existing community folder Community-original. Unzip the file into a temp folder then simply copy the unzipped community file into your PACKAGES FOLDER

Copy across into the new community folder any other software you use like aircraft etc:
